

The School District Governance Association of New Hampshire

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Concord, NH May 22, 2017 -

New Hampshire Commissioner of Education, Frank Edelblut, was the keynote speaker on Saturday, May 20th, for the SDGANH's first annual general meeting.

Commissioner Edelblut's talk stressed these important objectives:

- Empowering parental choice in education
- Personalizing learning so students progress at their own pace
- Re-enforcing local control in education
- Realizing that proficiency necessarily precedes competency.

“Our members were tremendously impressed with Commissioner Edelblut's depth of knowledge, his understanding of the challenges in New Hampshire and his creative solutions,” says SDGANH President, Donna Green. “He is a dynamic speaker with an unmistakable passion for improving education for all students in the state and a profound grasp on the ways to do so.”

The AGM was held at the Nackey S. Loeb School of Communications in Manchester from 9 am to 3 pm.

The School District Governance Association of New Hampshire (SDGA NH) is a resource devoted to educating and empowering elected school district officials so they can effectively assert their lawful authority and be responsive to their electorate.
